QUATRA-LOG

TO THE STUDENTS OF

Foard High...

Fred T. Foard High School

O. M. LYNN, Principal

R. F. D. No. 1

NEWTON, NORTH CAROLINA

Dear Students:

For many hours, days, weeks, and months we have planned and replanned, trying to bring about an annual which will meet your approval. We have earnestly endeavored to capture the memories of this year - defeats, exams, discouragements, petty misunderstandings, warm friendships, and scholastic success in this 1959 edition of the Quatra-Log.

Within these halls are living memories, and these memories all mirror a prosperous 1958-1959. Our hopes for a gym were finally realized when construction was completed December 4, 1958.

No matter where our courses in life may lead, we can glance within these covers for a review of our pleasant experiences and our records of achievement. If the picture of this spirit can be gleaned from the pages of the 1959 Quatra-Log, the annual staff will be repaid for its efforts.

Sincerely yours,
Kay Kirby

THE 1959

Quatra Log

Published By The Senior Class

Of

FRED T. FOARD HIGH SCHOOL

Newton, North Carolina

A wild dash to make class on time is attempted by each student as he rushes to last period before lunch.

THIS IS A HOPE AND A SINCERE

"Where's that book?" is a familiar echo in the halls.

Students from college preparatory class in Senior English demonstrate ability (or lack of ability!!) to communicate effectively. Surprised faces and hearty laughter leave no doubt that something went wrong either in giving or in following the directions.

EFFORT TO RECORD forever...

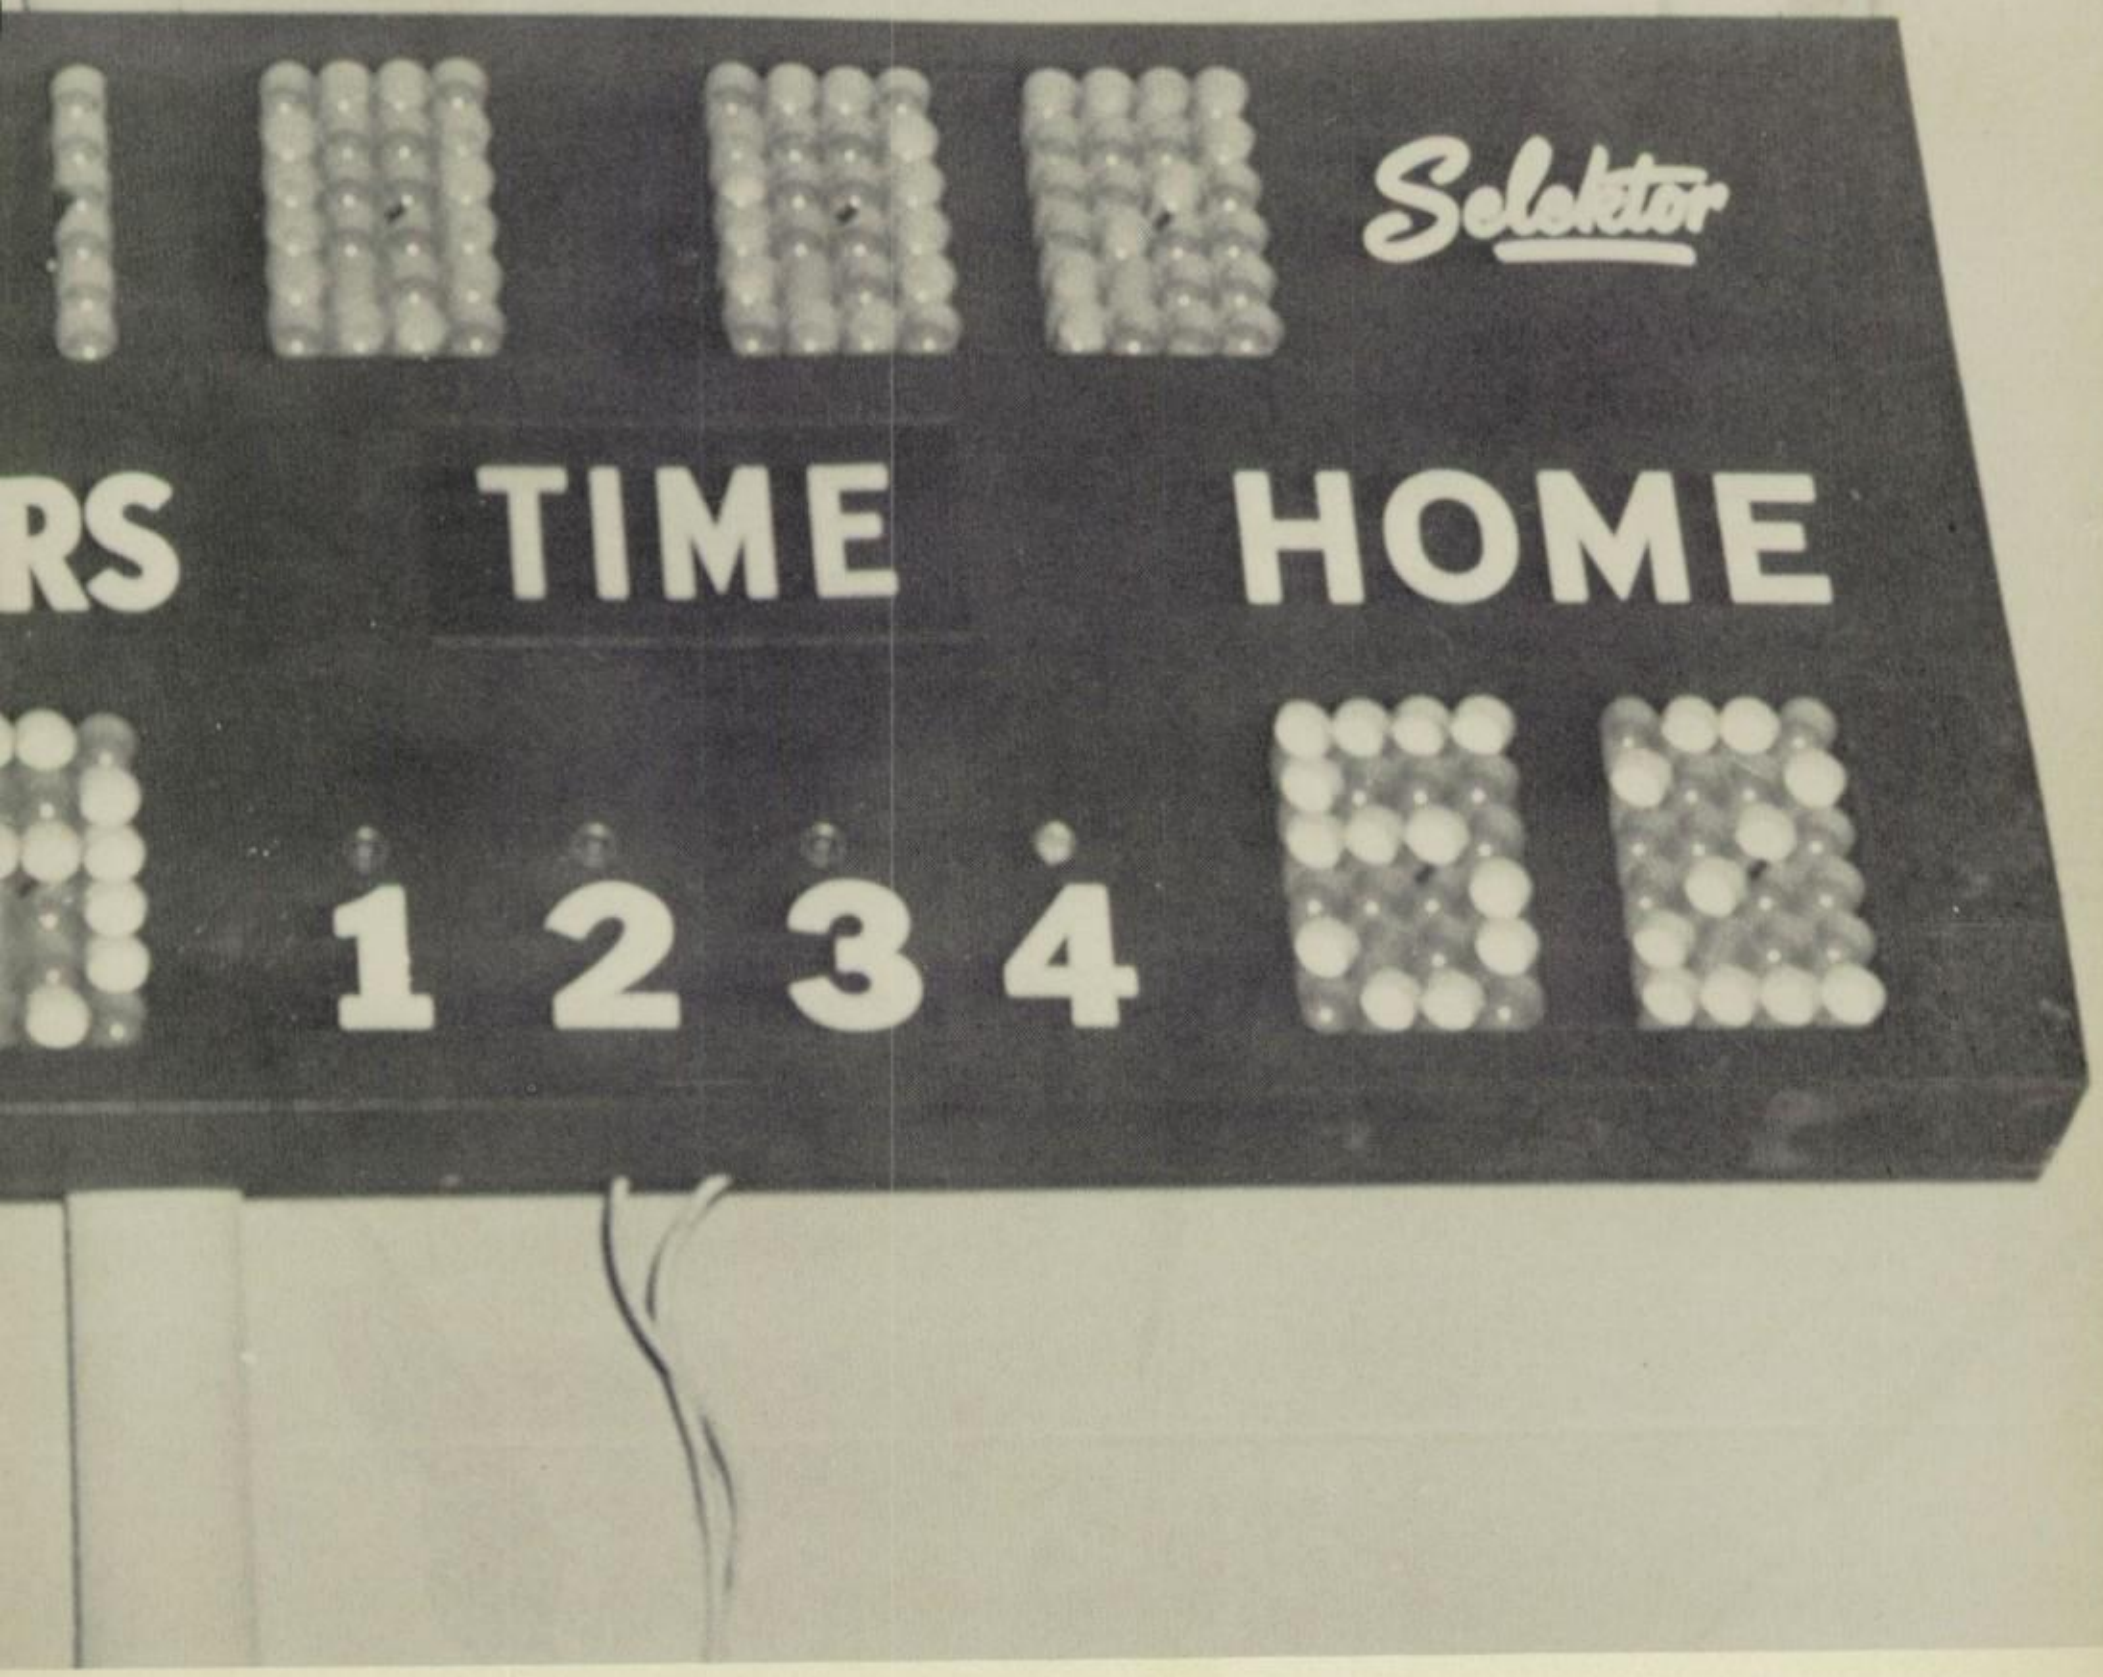
MEMORIES OF 1959

Miss Foard
First Student Council
New gym
Junior-Senior banquet
Senior trip
Football team

Shocking but true is the evidence of whether or not we have been preparing for mid-term exams.

"Only one point!" Our tigers fell victims to Bandys trojans.

JOY ... DISAPPOINT



The second game with undefeated Bandys brings about revenge.
Foard scalps the "Trojans" 52-49.

MENT ...

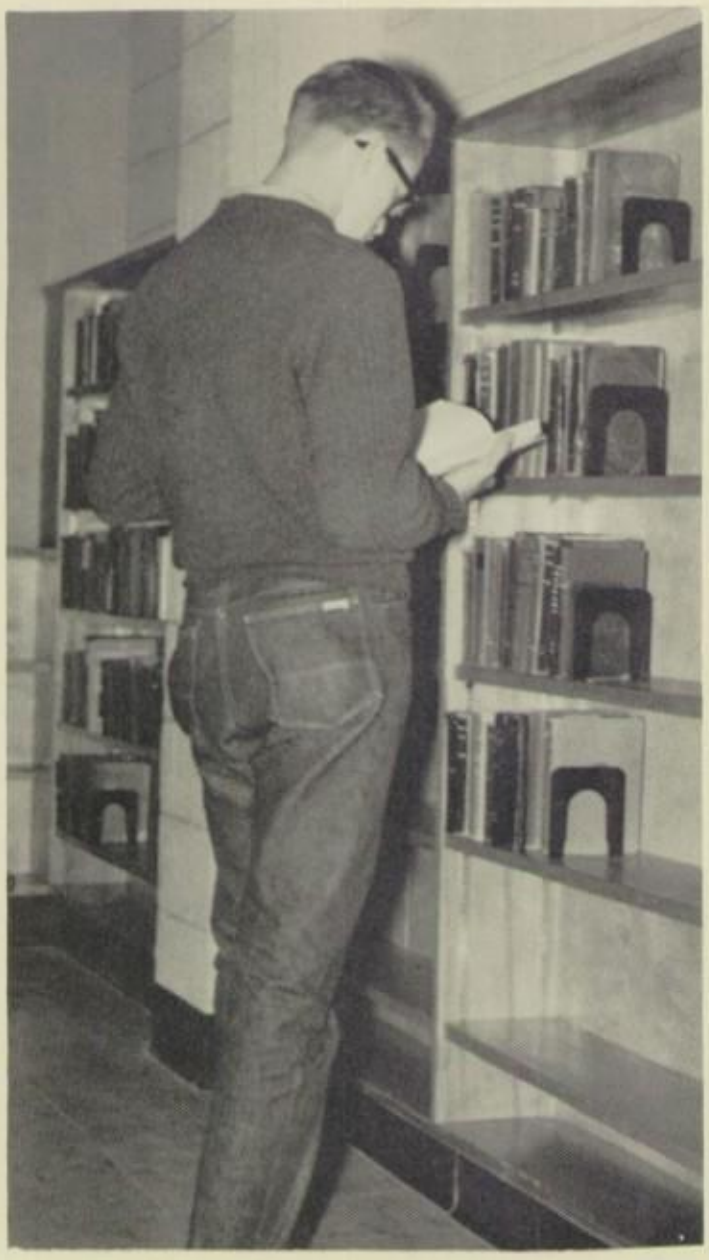
ANXIETIES... MEDITATION ... COMPANIONSHIP

Conducting a practical experiment on counter-clockwise moments are physics, students, Jim Deal and Larry Phillips.

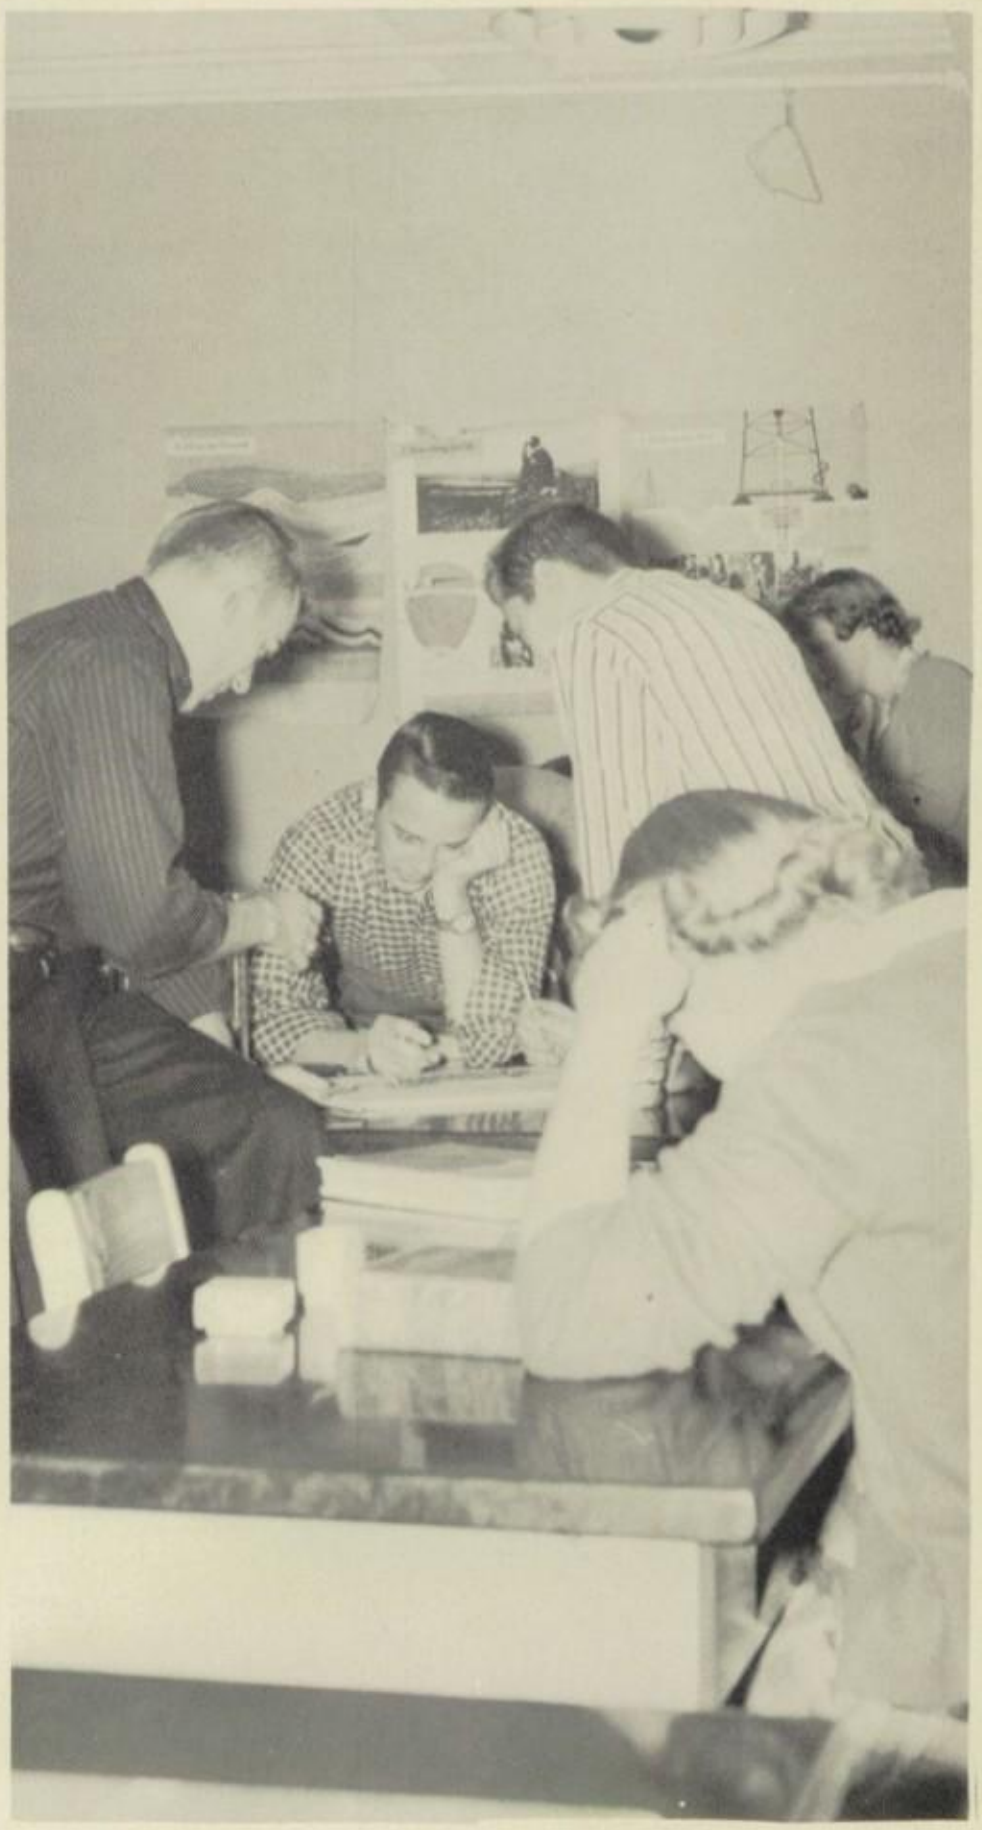
Home Economics department offers the chance to experiment in cooking and sewing.

Using facilities made available to the agriculture department, boys learn how to improve rural farm conditions.

OUR SCHOOL OFFERS A CHANCE TO EXPERIMENT



The library offers our students a storehouse of knowledge.



Learning to dissect worms is the pleasure of the biology students.

AND LEARN...

WE EVER SEEK THE BEST AND

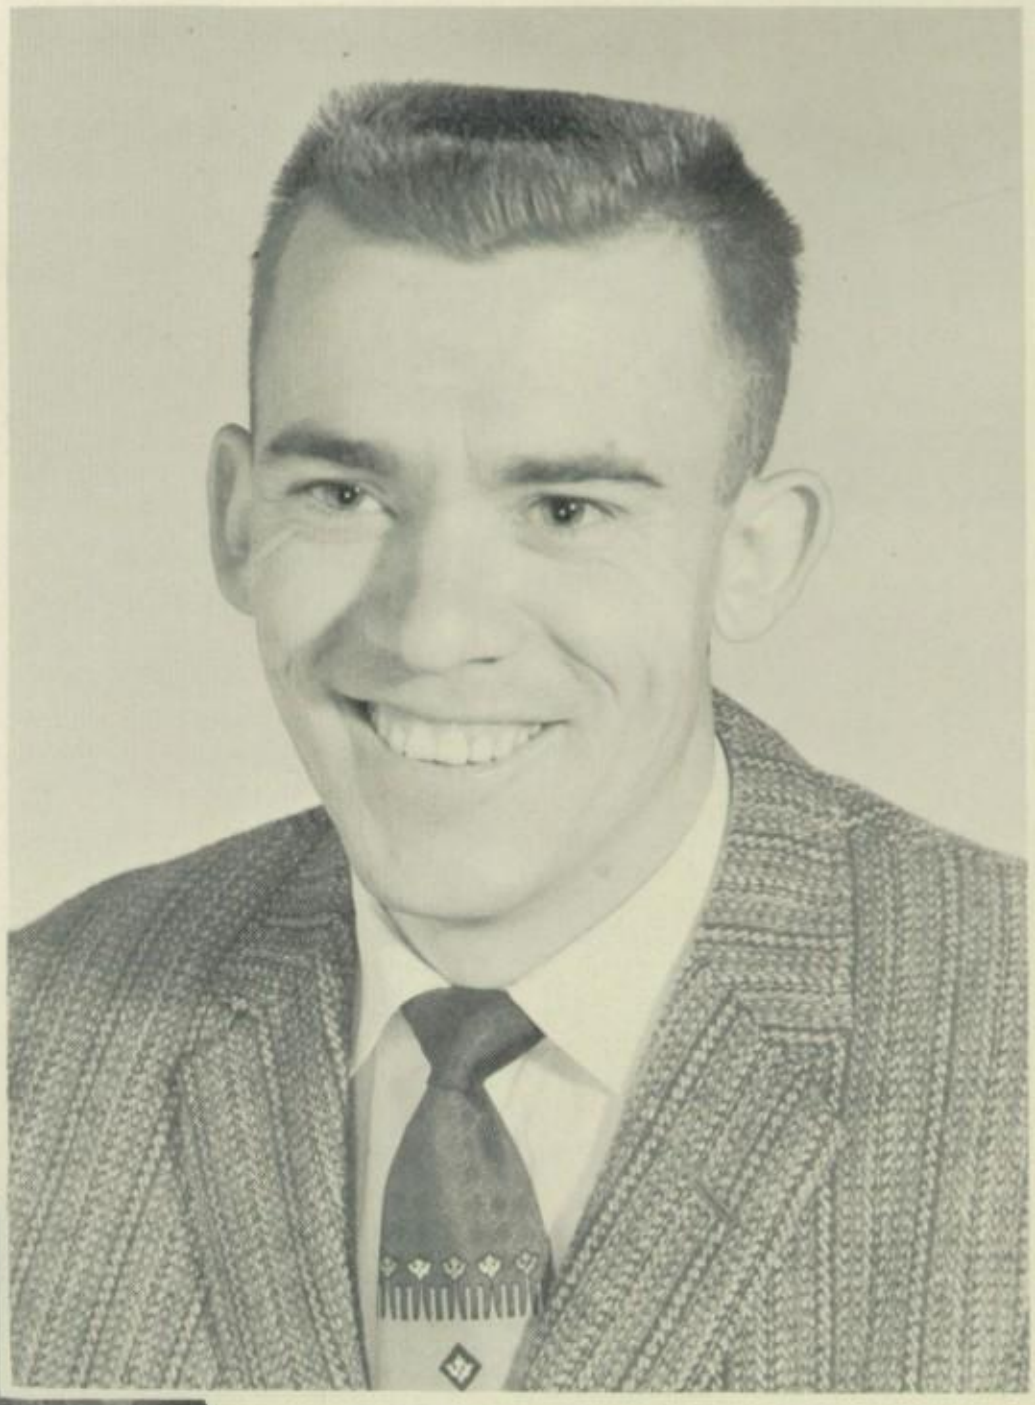
Once or twice a day the students have a chance to "catch up" on their homework in study hall.

Working hard to secure another ad to finance our annual are Jim Deal and Tommy Banks.

Few realize how hard it is to get the school newspaper, the Foardonian, out on schedule. Co-editors Eve Anthony and Jeanne Frye work diligently to meet deadline.

STRIVE TO OBTAIN OUR OBJECTIVES...

Dedication



To Mr. Charles C. Wyant, whose kindness and understanding have overflowed to all students and made our lives at Foard more enjoyable; who has endeavored to make science more appealing in this scientific age; whose jovial and sincere personality has made him a friend as well as an excellent teacher, we, the Senior Class of 1959, dedicate this edition of the QUATRA-LOG.

ADMINISTRATION

The faculty, though often the least appreciated, but certainly the most valuable, always has the students' interests at heart.

ONE PERIOD

"What

10:43 The period finally starts after morning announcements. Mr. Wyant calmly explains Force x distance = Force x Distance as puzzled students look on.

10:45 Seems as if student Fry has to be shown.

10:47 Yes, it does work! Demonstrating a law of physics finally convinces student.

WITH A TEACHER

a Life"

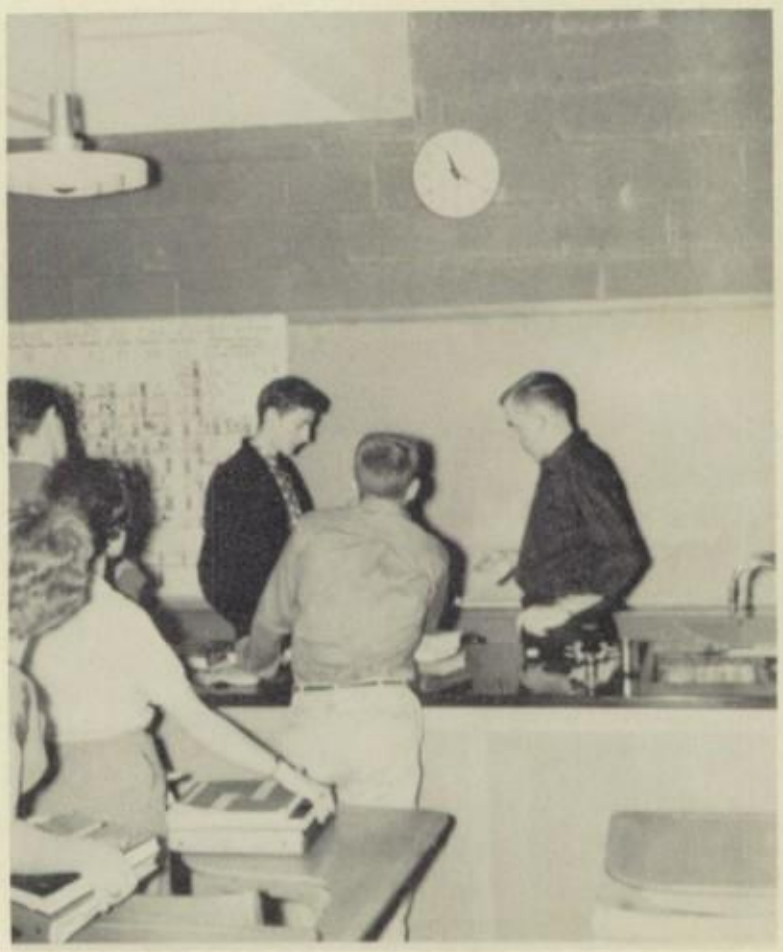
11:10 Teacher must hurry if he gets across today's problem.

11:07 "If you will kindly pay attention, I shall try to explain the incline plane."



11:20 Class dismissed! Seems as if some students such as Sigmon and Proctor can't get enough of physics or Mr. Wyant.

MR. O. N. LYNN

One who has guided many students on their way to success and who is continually improving the curriculum of our school.

OUR ADMINISTRATION GUIDES SCHOOL

Mr. Marshall Clay
Mr. Rome Jarrett

Mr. Dan Phillips
Mr. Herbert Teague

The School Board is faced with many tasks as it capably guides and directs the administration of our school.

Daily exercise forms a part of the Freshman routine.

A day with

"Studying about government and current affairs in WORLD WEEK starts civics."

"Practicing basketball stimulates one early in the morning."

"Study hall at last and a chance to catch up on homework."

"Fourth period and Latin-of course in this difficult study one must obtain some help from the teacher."

A Freshman

"Learning about the classics occupies part of English Class."

"Finally it's time for lunch and a chance to relax."

"A climax to a day of study is algebra. My, those formulas are tricky."

"At last, another day of school well spent."

Mr. Sox gives his class in geography and world affairs a lecture.

Helping M. E. Rhoney with her book-keeping exercises is Mrs. Setzer.

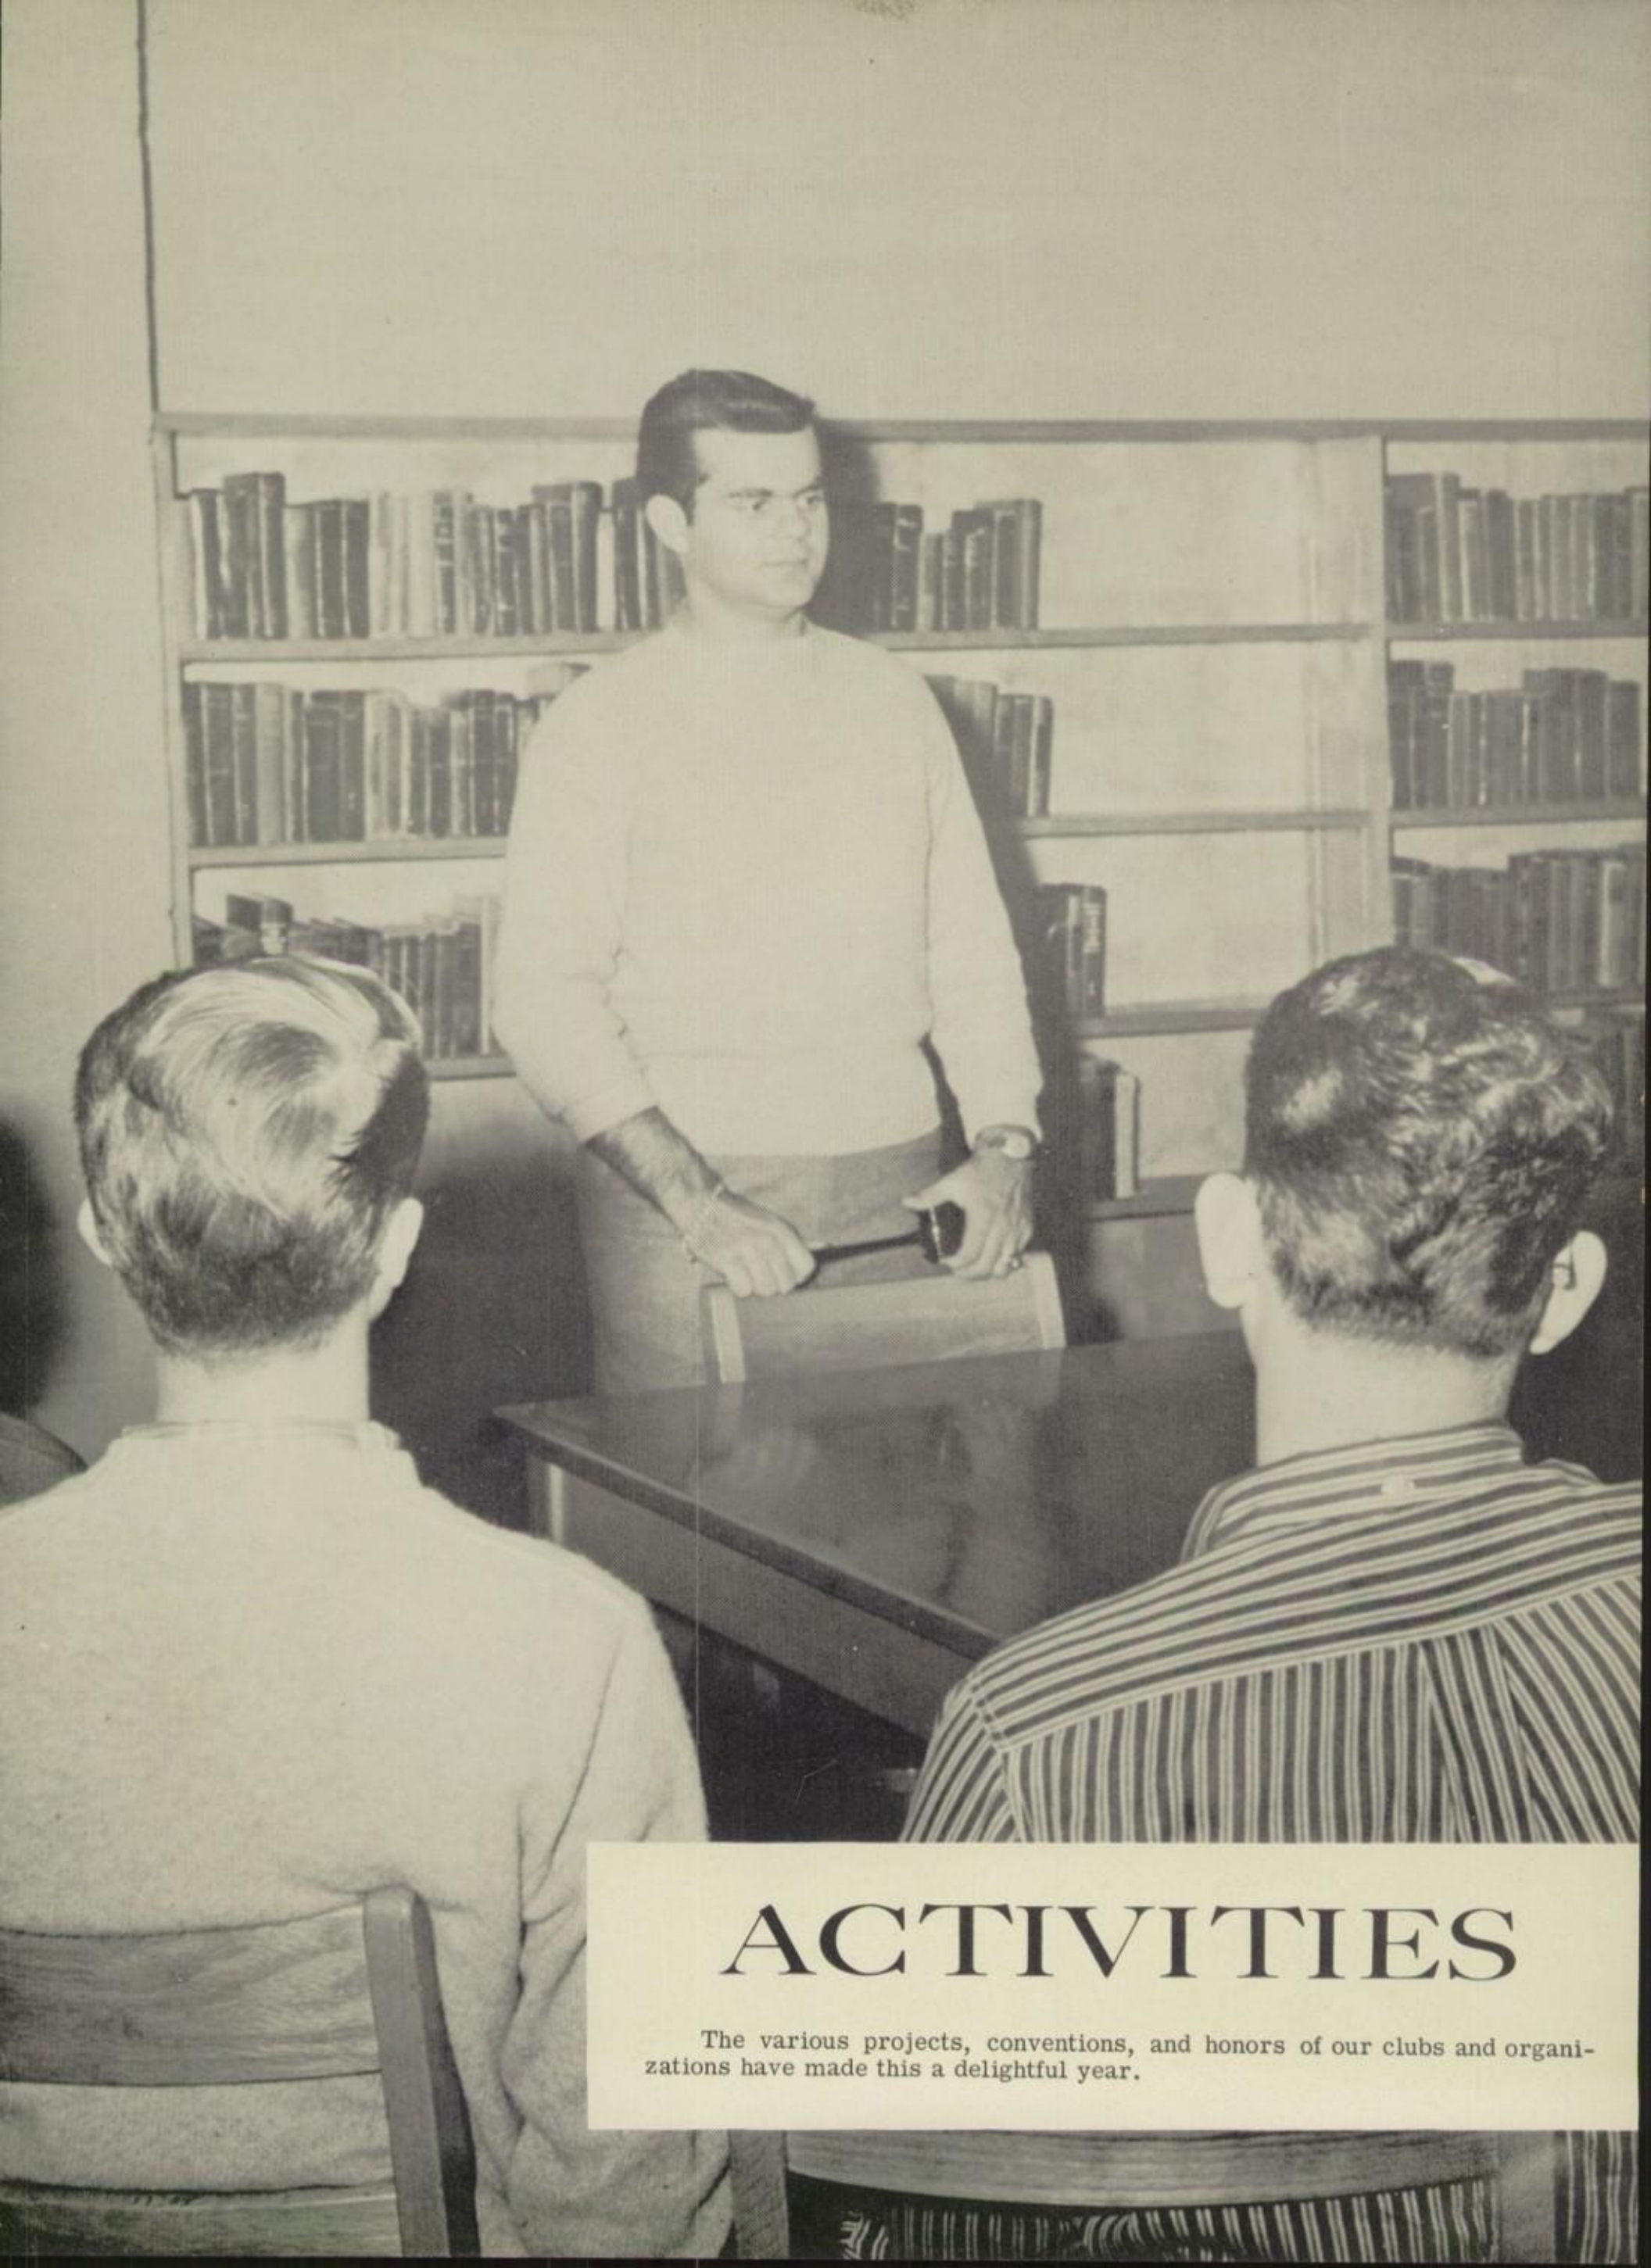
Mr. Lynn makes the daily announcements.

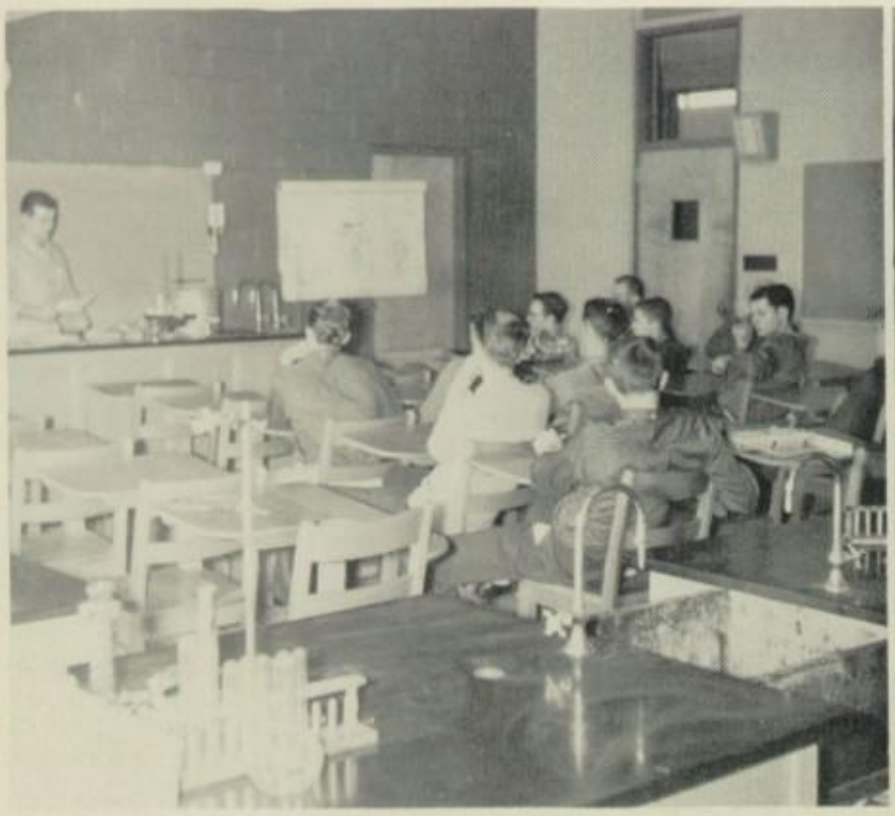
T. Banks has a puzzled look as Mr. Anthony explains the solid geometry problem.

Mrs. Goodson checks to see if J. Burgin has been getting to study hall on time.



ACTIVITIES

The various projects, conventions, and honors of our clubs and organizations have made this a delightful year.



The Key Club plans for the initiation of new members.

Foard establishes first Student

The Student Council supervises student government activities, enforces regulations, tries students who have disobeyed, and determines the penalities to be applied.

The purpose of the Student Council is to foster a more co-operative spirit among the students of Foard, to create and maintain high standards of honor, and to promote a wholesome school spirit.

Student Council members await the result of their voting for hall patrol members.

Government in its history

The hall patrol keeps the halls in order during the changing of classes.

Our Student Council has organized a hall patrol to help eliminate the conjestion during the change of classes. A student is warned twice before he is brought before the judicial branch of the Student Council. The problem of parking cars has also been solved by the Student Council.

Mrs. Reitzel checks work with co-editors, Kay Kirby and Carroll Whitener, on last minute copy.

The students, teachers, sports, features, and all the activities of this year at Fred T. Foard are recorded in this edition of the Quatra-Log.

Planning the dummy, getting pictures made, and meeting the deadline was a big headache for the annual staff, but in spite of the problems we have enjoyed the work.

Key Club members build to serve

The Key Club is a boy's service organization sponsored by the Kiwanis International. The members work in the school store, try to promote better citizenship and help in other school functions. Members are selected on the basis of scholastic ability, leadership qualities, and citizenship. The Fred T. Foard High School Chapter of the Key Club is sponsored by Mr. Anthony.

Key Club Adviser, Mr. Anthony, hands President Jim Deal a list of new members to be initiated.

Getting ready to test skating ability are the Latin Club members.

Dear Students,

To you fine girls and boys who have chosen to travel the Roman road toward a better understanding of your native tongue and a greater appreciation of our Western civilization, greetings and best wishes for a profitable journey.

I said profitable because it will be profitable. Everyone who uses English today also uses Latin in frequent and casual ways. How many times each day you hear such Latin words as library, civics, report, principal's office, discipline, expect, honor, popular, school, permit, absent, captain, final, flora, fauna, sodium, calcium, nuclear, rectangle, triangle, and circle!

Though the poet Edgar Allan Poe in "To Helen" referred to "the glory that was Greece and the grandeur that was Rome" with a past form of the verb, Eternal Rome, mistress of the ancient world, is still grand and her language, spoken and written long before Christ, has spread over the whole world.

I extend best wishes because you have chosen no easy road. My first attempt to teach Latin 1- a cherished memory, for no class will ever again be like that- brought me face to face with fourteen choice spirits. Journey's end numbered a valiant nine. This year- mirabile dictu- to my overwhelming joy I found myself staring at the mighty fifty-seven!

Biggest Latin Club ever.

The Latin Clubs quietly enter the Catholic Church at Belmont Abbey to hear services in Latin.

This edition of the Quatra-Log can preserve within its pages your class trip to Belmont Abbey, where you heard the service in Latin.

But it cannot capture every joy and trial you have encountered: your groans over endless forms; your wide-eyed unbelief when the teacher referred to a fifth declension and a fourth conjugation; your consternation at the thought of seven different cases and more rules to learn. Can you imagine a Roman confining himself to seven little hills? Being peculiarly Roman, he simply couldn't express all that he felt and achieved in a few simple forms!

Also, it cannot recapture all our fun when each of us tried to be a wing-footed Mercury at the skating rink. Do you remember the night the Pueri lined up like a train and what a wreck they made when the "box-cars" piled up?

Likewise, the annual cannot measure your increasing knowledge of sentence analysis, your expanding vocabulary, your deepening background in classical mythology, and your greater appreciation of our own way of life, enriched by those ancient people whose heirs we are.

Your Latin teacher,

Mrs. Reitzel

Library Club observes

The Library Club helps the librarian by handling the circulation of books, collecting fines and permits, and returning the books to their proper places. The librarians also keep an accurate record of each individual's reading list. The librarians are responsible for processing and maintaining the books.

The FFA Club is composed of all boys who are taking vocational agriculture in rural high schools and who are in good standing. The club trains students for agricultural leadership that will lead to more stable agricultural conditions.

Besides their shop projects, productive home projects, and pruning of the school shrubbery the club enters the Tri-county Federation contest each spring. Last spring the club placed first in two divisions, giving them more points than any other club. The club is under the leadership of Mr. A. E. Shugart.

The 4-H Club of Fred T. Foard High School is composed of rural students who strive to make the best better. The purpose of the 4-H Club is to help young people improve themselves and their families by learning new and better methods of homemaking and farming.

The Fred T. Foard chapter has participated in talent shows, State 4-H Club Week, and N. C. 4-H camps. The club hopes to have another student to represent it at National 4-H Club Week to be observed during February in Chicago. Only a limited number of state award winners will win the trip.

The club also won second prize for its booth at the Catawba County Fair.

Planning activities for 4-H Club Week, February 28 - March 6, are the officers of the club.

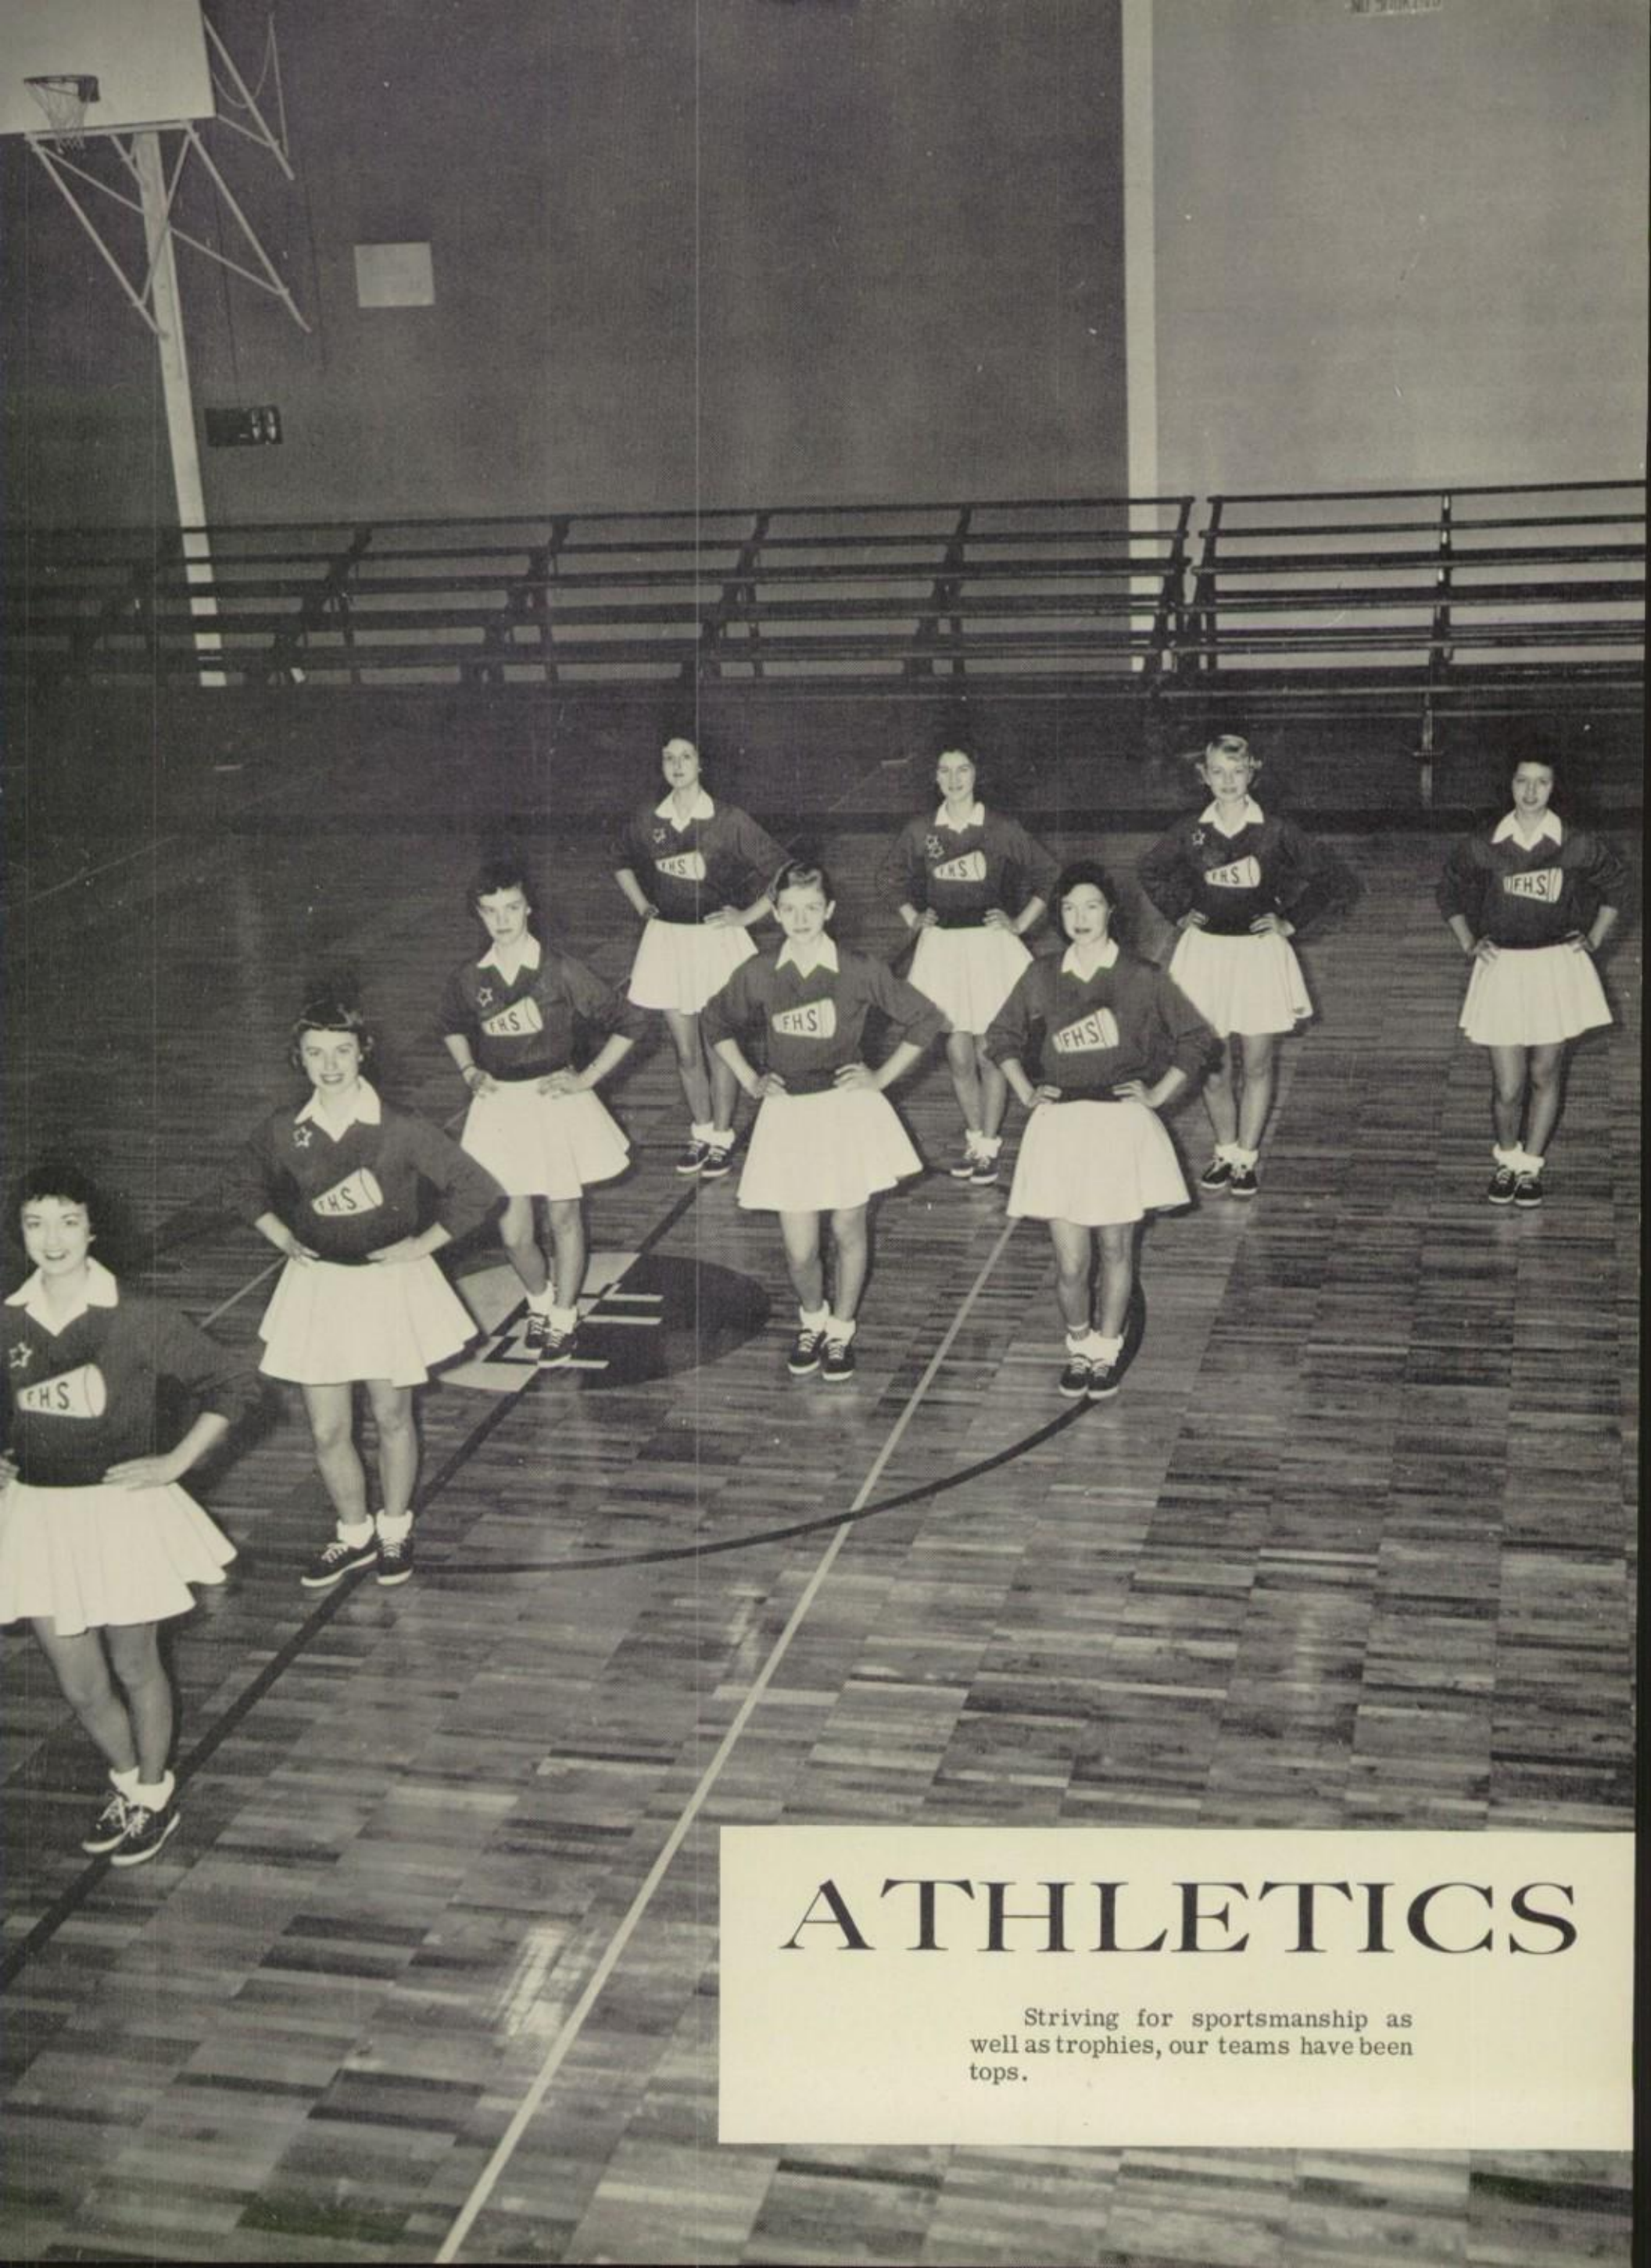
Hats off to punctual bus drivers.

Bus drivers, Ernest Clevenger, fills out his monthly bus report.

Driving the bus through all kinds of weather and getting the students to school on time is the tremendous job of the bus drivers. To insure the safety of the students, the drivers must take a qualifying test given by the county. They are also responsible for keeping their buses clean and orderly and for making monthly bus reports.

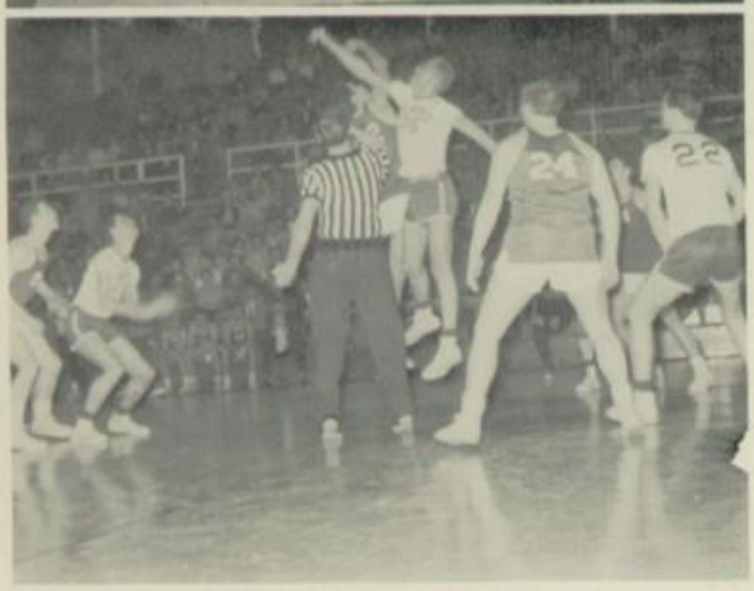
These drivers provide transportation for grammar grade and Foard students.



ATHLETICS

Striving for sportsmanship as well as trophies, our teams have been tops.

'58 champions pose with coveted trophies.



"If only we were out there playing."

Fighting with Maiden for another win in the tournament. Foard was the victor by a score of 71-67.

1958 Champions

Runner-up in the conference, first place in the tri-county tournament, runner-up in the N. C. H. S. AA District Tournament, and most important of all the Sportsmanship trophy are among '58 honors.

Coming from the dressing room to play the championship game with Rock Springs is our team, which won by a comfortable margin of 61-45.

Mr. Spurlock, high school supervisor, gave each member of the team a gold basketball-a final memento of a season of hard work.

Go, Tigers! Fight, team fight!

Coaches, Mr. M. D. Honeycutt and Mr. Hugh Peeler, spend hours each afternoon instructing the teams. The sports this year include basketball, baseball, and football.

Mr. Honeycutt victoriously coached the boys' basketball and baseball teams while Coach Peeler capably instructed the football and the girls' basketball teams.

The cheerleaders with their inexhaustible energy lead our students as they cheer the teams on to victory. The cheerleaders practice diligently and are always introducing new cheers to the fans. If a trophy were to be given to outstanding cheerleaders, truly ours would rank near the top.

Thirty-one compete for berths on

Fred T. Foard High School had the first football team in its short history this year. Only a handful of prospects reported for the first practice sessions.

Interest grew and enthusiasm spread around the community until the squad boasted a roster of 31: five freshmen, twelve sophomores, seven juniors, and seven seniors.

Head coach, Hugh Peeler, thought the backfield exceptionally speedy and most of the linemen very fast.

The Tiger linemen: Joe Teague, Kirby Thomas, Harold Benfield, Bobby Wood, Melvin Coulter, Tommy Turner, and Larry Deal.

Glenn Jarrett knows the importance of storing his football equipment.

Rain doesn't seem to dampen the spirits of Foard fans.

Foard's first grid team

Since Foard had its first football team this year and the equipment arrived late, there were only two regular games. Our team played Bunker Hill twice. The first time Bunker Hill defeated Foard 27-0. In the second game Foard was the victor by a score of 19-0.

Foard was hampered by bad weather in both games. Fans were turned away and the games were somewhat slower because of the weather.

Several scrimmages were held to give the boys the much needed practice. These were held with St. Stephens; Foard tied the first one and defeated in the second.

Co-captains, Mack Pitts and Walter Sudderth, demonstrate one of their plays.

Girls have new coach

Co-captains, Carolyn Whisnant and Peggy Cook, lead the girls against their opponents.

Although they had only two forwards from last season, Foard girls improved this year. In addition, their record does not show that the girls gave their opposition a rough time. Foard came within one point of defeating the top team in the conference.

P. Cook and E. Whisnant hope for a rebound as their opposition shoots.

Oops! Carolyn Whisnant seems to be sitting down on the job.

First string? It looks as if they would like to get into the game.

Co-captains, Ronald Craig and Fitzhugh Young, are two of the five seniors that make up this year's starting team.

An experienced and well-coached team has offered much excitement to our many fans this season. They have not let a team in the conference beat them twice. Defeating previously undefeated Bandys provided one of the biggest thrills of the year.

Co-captains, Ronald Craig and Fitzhugh Young, have led in the scoring. Because of their height they have been able to pull down many rebounds.

New gym dedicated

On January 21, 1959, the gymnasium at Fred T. Foard High School was dedicated. This was the first of the gymnasiums to be built for the county's five consolidated schools.

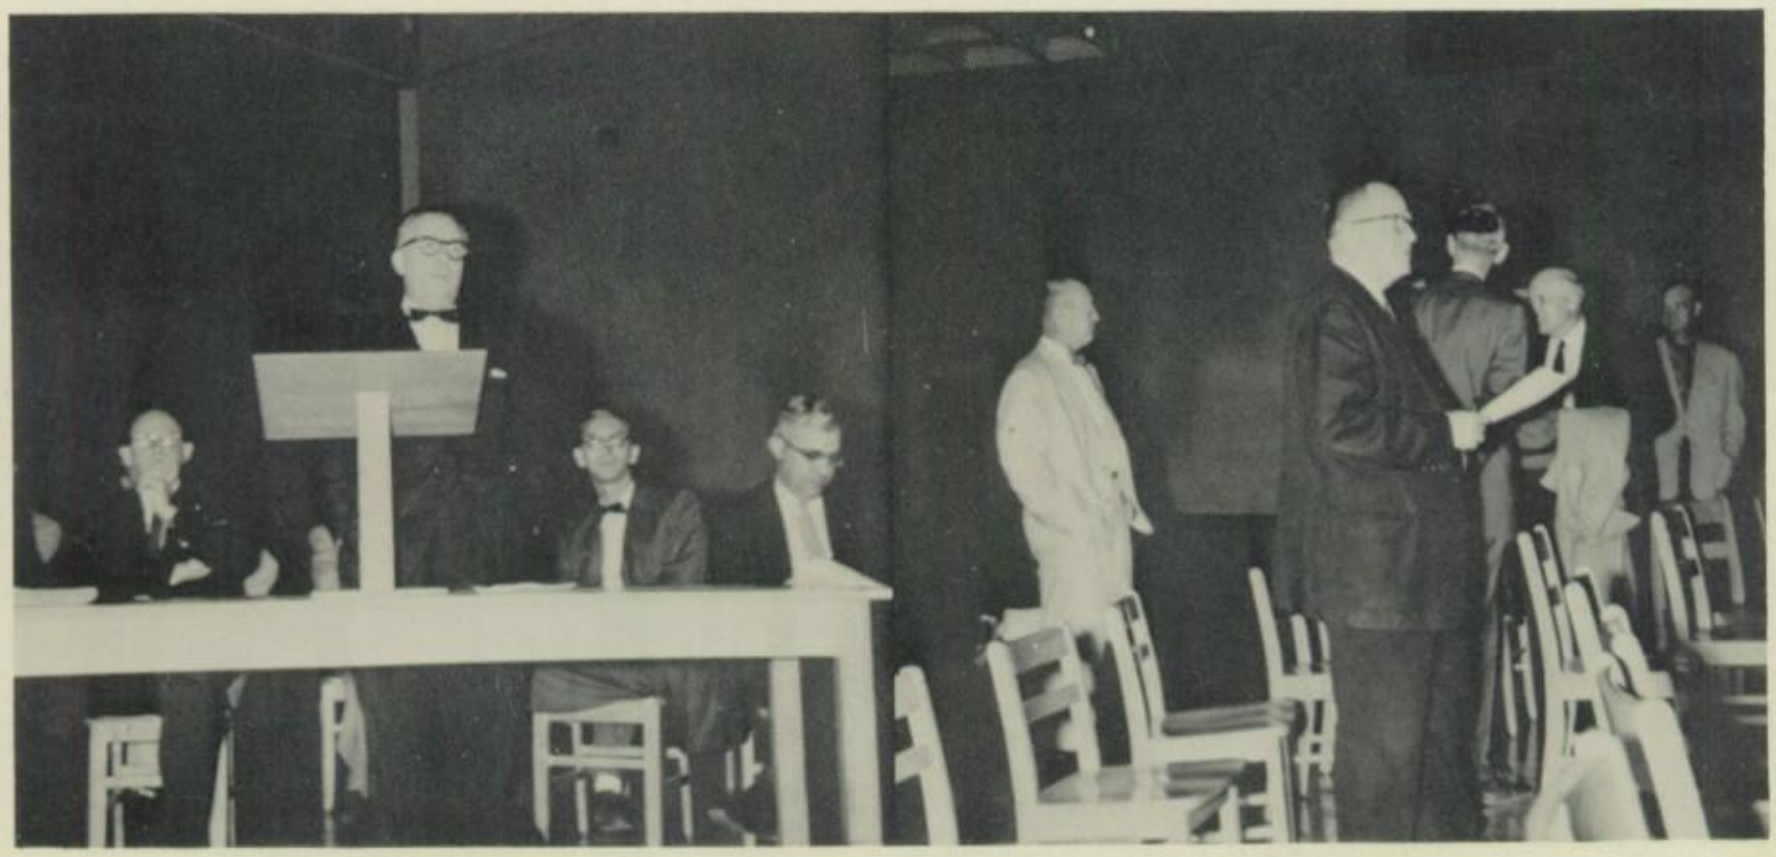
Mr. O. N. Lynn, principal of the school, presided and the Rev. Roy Leinbach gave the invocation. Mr. Harry M. Arndt, Superintendent of Catawba County Schools, introduced Mr. Marvin Johnson, design consultant for the Division of School Planning Department of Public Instruction, who delivered the dedicatory address.

Special guests for the evening were R. L. Clemmer of the architectural firm of Clemmer and Horton, Hickory; Howard Frye of Frye and Sons, Hickory, general contractors for the $125,000 gymnasium; Jack Huffman, Hickory, City Electric Company, electrical contractors. Members of the county school board and the county commissioners were also present.

Mr. Marvin Johnson of the State Department delivers the dedicatory address.

Mr. H. M. Arndt, county superintendent, introduces the next speaker.

Mr. Robert L. Clemmer, architect for the gym, is recognized.



Mr. O. N. Lynn and Rev. Roy Leinbach watch as the group leaves.

FEATURES

Our school's social activities have served as a balance between "all work and no play."

Larry Phillips - "Let knowledge grow from more to more."

Allen Proctor - "Character must be kept bright, as well as clean."

Who's Who

Sandra Kay Schrum - "Make use of time; let not advantage slip."

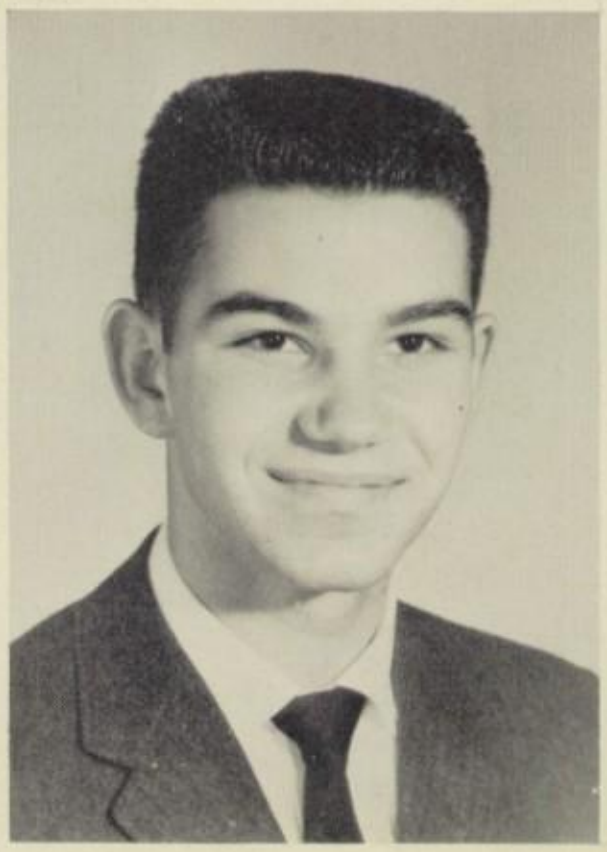
Edna Leonhardt - "Let gentleness my strong enforcement be."

Nancy Speagle - "But owned that smile, if oft observed and near."

Jim Deal - "High erected thoughts seated in a heart of courtesy."

Ann Lambert - "'Tis the taught already that profits by teaching."

Selected by an anonymous faculty committee, these ten students were named outstanding during their years at Foard because of their school activities, leadership, scholarship, citizenship, and promise of usefulness:



Junior Burgin - "Life! what art thou without love?"

Carroll Whitener - "Always leave them laughing when you say good-by."

Kay Kirby - "Faithful, unselfish, and patient, like yours."
